Travel

Traveling by airplane:

- The closest airport Baltimore/Washington International Airport \(BWI\) is 30.6 miles away from the hotel (Baltimore Marriott Hunt Valley Inn).
- Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport \(DCA\) is 62.7 miles away from the hotel (Baltimore Marriott Hunt Valley Inn).
- Washington Dulles International Airport \(IAD\) is 79 miles away from the hotel (Baltimore Marriott Hunt Valley Inn).
- AMTRAK stations: Baltimore, MD - Penn Station (BAL) and Baltimore, MD - BWI Airport Rail Station (BWI).
- Maryland Transit Administration \(MTA\) provides comprehensive information about services of local and commuter buses, metro subway, etc.

From BWI, it is recommended to travel by taxi (around $55.-) or shuttle (around $35.-). Reservations can be made at www.theairportshuttle.com and at www.supershuttle.com. A much cheaper ($1.35 one way) but more time-consuming way of reaching the hotel is to use the light rail system. The light rail system has a stop at BWI and a stop within walking distance of the hotel (see the map on the next page). Unfortunately, a part of the light rail track is currently under construction (north of North Avenue) so that a part of the trip has to be done in a shuttle bus. For more information, please visit www.mtmaryland.com.

From the other airports, either a shuttle (see the links above) or a rental car from AVIS may be used. A rental car from AVIS is convenient because AVIS has a branch within walking distance of the hotel (see the map on the next page).

Traveling by car:

Once on I83, leave the I83 at exit 20A. The conference hotel is located at the right side. It has plenty of parking spaces available for guests and conference attendees.
